Greetings from the Chair

Martha Chicoski

As the chair of the Young Lawyers Division (YLD), I am honored to address our YLD members, as well as other members of the State Bar.

Members of the State Bar who are under the age of 36 or who have been practicing law in any state for fewer than five years are members of this division.

YLD strives to promote the integrity and respect of the legal profession, provide services and outreach to its members, and support and encourage public service. In doing so, we try to help bridge the gap between law school and the practice of law for our members while encouraging them to get involved with, and give back to, their communities.

In the upcoming year, YLD will continue many of its long-standing and successful service projects: YLD/UNM Law Mock Interview Program; Law Day Call-In Program; Junior Judges; UNM Law Summer Fellowship Program; Wills for Heroes; Homeless Legal Aid clinics in Las Cruces, Santa Fe and Albuquerque; and YLD/UNM Law Mentorship Program. On behalf of the YLD board, many thanks to our wonderful volunteers who make these programs successful. During the 2010-2011 academic year, we will launch Voices Against Violence, a program designed to educate young lawyers about the epidemic of domestic violence and to engage them in efforts to respond to and prevent domestic violence in their communities.

We are thrilled to host the American Bar Association's Young Lawyers Division 2010 Fall Conference October 14-16 at the El Dorado Hotel in Santa Fe. The ABA YLD is the largest young lawyer organization in the world with over 150,000 members and 300 affiliated groups. It is committed to assuring it is best able to represent the newest members of the profession, ensuring that it reflects the society it serves, and providing young lawyers with the tools and opportunities for professional and personal success.

During the 2010 Fall Conference, 250-350 young lawyers and their guests from New Mexico and across the country will come together in Santa Fe to connect, collaborate and learn. This is a wonderful opportunity to showcase the talented people and the breathtaking landscape of our state. For more information on the event, sponsorship opportunities, and to get involved with the Host Committee, please feel free to contact your YLD representative or me.

In closing, I would like to welcome Sarah Maestas Barnes, Samantha Jarrett, Jared Kallunki, Keya Koul, and Kinder Shamhart to the YLD board. The mix of new energy and leadership along with YLD's strong history of community service programs and networking events for our members is bound to make for another successful year.
